

Calendar of Annual Hymns and Psalms – 2005

The following is an outline of the Psalms and hymns that one might use for the next year morning and evening. We have selected only an opening hymn and a psalm for each service leaving the third song to be chosen according to service or sermon themes. Our guiding principles have been:

1. The opening hymn or Psalm should be a great, majestic song of praise
2. The most outstanding and beloved hymns of the church should be sung twice a year, once in the morning and once in the evening.
3. Some attention should be paid to seasonal themes including the high points of the liturgical calendar (the “five evangelical feast days”).
4. At least one Psalm should be sung in every service. We have roughly followed the numerical order of the Psalter, using the best and most usable Psalms while noting seasonable variables. Because many churches do not have evening services, we have used our favorite Psalms in the morning, those less appreciated in the evening.
5. The entire Psalter may be read or sung each year. By following this schedule you will do so if you read the 46 Psalms not scheduled for singing. A chart is provided at the end of this calendar.
6. Communion is administered once a month, quarterly in the morning (January, April, July, October), and in the evening the other eight months of the year.
7. A check list is provided for the most usable and recommended hymns. ✓ Checks indicate hymns already provided for in the calendar.

Hymn numbers are from the Trinity Hymnal (1990), Psalm selections from the Trinity Psalter (1994).
